

INTERVENTION OF ROOSEVELT

In the Coal Strike Will Occur
Only When Situation .

BECOMES NATIONAL CALAMITY

ANTHRACITE OPERATORS WILL MEET
MINERS NEXT TUESDAY

A Number of Operators Have Expressed Willingness to Sign the 1903 Scale.

Washington, March 31.—President Roosevelt's determination to take no hand in the coal strike unless the condition of affairs approaches a national calamity, is meeting with general approval here. The request for the appointment of a commission made by the operators is still unanswered. The President wishes to give the employer and employee every opportunity to settle their own differences. He believes frequent interference in such affairs by the executive would only cheapen the office in the people's eyes, and would weaken the power of the White House, which should only be provoked when all other sources fail and the country's welfare is really endangered. It is believed when he does answer the operators' telegram, perhaps next week, it will be along these lines, leaving the way open for future action should the progress of events justify it. In any event, it may be stated authoritatively that the President will not appoint a commission until he receives assurances from both the operators and the miners that the decision of such a commission shall be considered final.

OPERATORS WILL MEET MINERS.

New York, March 31.—Official denial was made today of the report from Scranton that the purpose of the anthracite operators to meet the miners Tuesday and inform them unless the order calling the men out is rescinded, they will refuse to negotiate differences in the hard coal region. "That is nonsense," said an anthracite president today. "We will hear them and give any new demands full consideration."

DELEGATES HAVE GONE HOME.

Indianapolis, March 31.—The last of the miners' delegations left for their homes this morning to prepare for the coal strike beginning at midnight tonight. A majority of the delegates are in good spirits over the sine die adjournment last night after adopting the Perry resolution thereby agreeing to sign contracts with individual operators in any districts. The Ohio operators, led by Vice President Lewis and Wm. Greene, the new president of the Ohio miners, opposed the plan to the last, but gracefully accepted the will of the convention and in a separate session after the big convention, gave orders for the members of the union to remain away from the pits after the expiration of the present contracts tonight. This order holds good until the local unions receive national or district board orders to return to work. The resolution passed by the national convention gives these boards discretionary powers over details of the strike and in scale settlements.

OHIO WILL BE STORM CENTER.

Indianapolis, March 31.—Expressions of willingness to sign the 1903 scale are being received from individual operators by the miners' delegates still in the city. Besides the Pennsylvania mines under Robbins' control, the Iowa operators have agreed to the scale. It is practically certain that the operators in the Northern Illinois field and the Devil's mines, southwest, will make a contract. In Ohio the mercantile interests are against a settlement until the large operators agree to the scale. Many smaller operators say the scale is acceptable. The Ohio miners are opposed to the plan for a scale agreement by districts, realizing that in the burden of the fight would rest on them. Ohio, with Southern Illinois, promises to be the storm center and in Ohio the suspension is expected to last longest.

WILL CONFISCATE COAL.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 31.—In the event of a general coal strike the state will take possession of a big coal mine near Waverly, Mo., and will operate it for the purpose of supplying fuel to the various state institutions and the penitentiary. This arrangement was made by Warden Hall of the prison, who has returned from Waverly. Both the governor and the warden feel greatly relieved in consequence of the successful result of Mr. Hall's trip, for it can be admitted now that the prison has been in danger several times recently of having to shut down on account of the shortage of coal. Convicts probably will be used in the mines.

Indianapolis, March 31.—After authorizing the national and district officers to sign a wage agreement with any coal operator who would agree to pay the scale of 1903 or its equivalent for a period of two years, the national convention of the United Mine Workers adjourned sine die. The 1903 scale is an advance of 5.55 per cent in wages in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, and all other districts except the southwest, composed of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Indian Territory, where an advance of 3 cents per ton is demanded, as the 1903 scale is practically in force in that district. The convention declined an offer made by the operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio to submit the wage differences to arbitration. Where a coal operator owns mines in different districts the scale must be signed for all the properties at the same time before any will be allowed to run. It is expected that the action of the convention will bring out of the mines of the country Saturday night 509,500 men in the anthracite and bituminous fields. These will remain on strike until settlements have been signed by districts or with individual operators. The only miners at work Monday will be 25,000 men in the New River, Pocahontas, Fairmount and Central fields of West Virginia, where an agreement had been made several days ago to allow the men to continue at work until the district convention now in session has reached an agreement with the operators.

The joint conventions of the outlying districts, which will be held next week at Charleston, W. Va.; Louisville, Ky.; Des Moines, Ia.; Saginaw, Mich., and Clearfield, in central Pennsylvania, were empowered under the action of the convention to sign agreements with the operators of those states if they agree to pay the 1903 scale. The men will return to work as soon as the scale is signed. If there is disagreement in these joint state conventions any of the miners can sign the scale and resume work where individual operators pay the advanced scale. It is thought that the scale will be signed in a few days by employers of 75,000 miners. The Pittsburgh Coal company and F. L. Robbins of western Pennsylvania, who also own mines in Ohio, Illinois and West Virginia, will, it is expected, sign at once, together with a number of independent operators. The miners expect to get the advance soon in all the Indiana mines south of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, in a number of central Indiana mines, in one half of the Illinois mines and in a large percentage of the mines of Ohio. The duration of the strike in Michigan, Kentucky, central Pennsylvania, Iowa and West Virginia can better be determined when the state conventions meet next week, when expressions from the operators as to their intentions will be made. President Mitchell said he believed one-half of the tonnage of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania would sign very soon, and he knew of independent companies in those states having an annual output of 15,000,000 tons who protested here against the advance, but would pay the advance demanded and their men would resume work. The miners expect that very few operators in the southwestern district will sign at once.

Affects an Army of Men.
Philadelphia, March 31.—A total suspension of anthracite mining as ordered by the Shamokin scale committee of the United Mine Workers of America would affect more than 175,000 men. Of these 160,000 are employed in and about the 400 collieries and washeries scattered throughout nine counties in eastern Pennsylvania, and the others are railroad men engaged in handling the production and repairing railroad equipment. Nearly 75 per cent of the 160,000 mine workers belong to the union, but judging from the action of the men during the strike of 1900 and 1902, there is little doubt that nearly all the nonunion men will quit work when the union workers obey the order.

Pittsburgh District.
Pittsburgh, March 31.—In the Pittsburgh district there are 50,000 miners, upon whom 150,000 are dependent. The total wages of the miners is $2,600,000 monthly. In the entire state there are 110,000 bituminous miners, whose average wage $2.50 a day. The production of this force is 107,960,000 tons annually. It is estimated that in the event of a strike the average daily loss in wages would be about $60,000.

Roosevelt and Coal Strike.
Washington, March 31.—President Roosevelt is noncommittal as to what action, if any, he will take regarding the coal strike. It is known, however, that his replies to the telegrams received from Indianapolis will be to the effect that he has taken the whole matter under consideration and it may be some days yet before he decides what, if anything can be done.

NO INDICTMENTS TODAY.
Cincinnati, March 31.—No indictments were returned by the grand jury today against the county treasurer accused of receiving gratuities for depositing county funds in certain banks.

QUARANTINED

Because She Would Not go to Chicago to be Treated After a Dog Had Bitten Her.

Dayton, O., March 31.—As far as known Mrs. Timothy Kelly is the first person to be quarantined in Ohio because of a dog bite. Mrs. Kelly refused to go to the Pasteur Institute for treatment, as have other victims, and the board of health took the unprecedented action and reported the matter Friday to the board of public service.

James S. Cook, whose daughter was bitten by a rabid dog, and who was taken to the Chicago Institute, appeared before the board and suggested that something be done to reduce the mad dog evil in this city, stating that the institute officials had requested him to see the city authorities. The institute officials say that Ohio has furnished more mad dog victims than any other section of the country. Sixteen out of twenty cases at the institute while Miss Cook was there were from Ohio.

Edward Clark was appointed Dayton's first poundmaster yesterday. A dog catcher will soon be named.

IN EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE

Three Persons Were Seriously Injured in an Air Shaft on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

New York, March 31.—Three men were seriously injured, one perhaps fatally, and six were slightly hurt in an explosion of dynamite in shaft B of the Pennsylvania railroad this morning. Nine men went down into the shaft, which is 120 feet deep, and began work. Just as the first man sank his shovel into the earth a terrific explosion occurred. Policemen heard the sound. They went into the shaft and assisted the injured men to the platform lifts upon which they were brought to the surface.

The injured were Italians. It is thought a stick of dynamite that had not been exploded when blasts were made remained secreted in the earth. When the workman's shovel struck it the natural consequence followed.

BEATTY BILL PASSED

(Bull tin.)
Columbus, March 31.—The House by 80 to 0, passed the Beatty bill repealing the inheritance tax law, without a single amendment today.

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION

Columbus, March 31.—Despite the fact that a public condition form an element of anxiety in consideration of Governor Patterson's case he is apparently not losing ground. He passed a reasonably comfortable night, and information from the executive residence today says the governor is resting quietly.

NEWARK TO HAVE A GOVERNMENT
BUILDING SOON

CONGRESSMAN SMYER SAYS THAT BILL WILL BE PASSED
IN A FEW DAYS

APPROPRIATING SUM OF $85,000

Capt. A. H. Heisey Has Been in Washington Working for Passage of Appropriation Bill.

Newark is to have a government building. Owing to the cramped condition of the present postoffice the matter of a government building has been agitated for some time past and hard work to attain the desired end has been done by Congressman Smyer. Postmaster George D. Heisey, A. H. Heisey and others. Capt. A. H. Heisey has been in Washington the past week in the interest of this proposed building.

Saturday morning Postmaster Heisey received a telegram from Congressman Smyer announcing the news that the subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations had reported to the full Committee on Appropriations in favor of a building for Newark. The committee has reported favorably on the matter to the house recommending an appropriation of $95,000. Mr. Smyer, in conversation with the Advocate over the long distance phone, said that the bill providing for new public buildings, which includes the one at Newark, would undoubtedly pass the House and Senate next week.

Mr. Heisey is dated over the outcome of the struggle for this new building, as well as all patriotic citizens of Newark. While the appropriation is not as large as would have been liked it is a starter and the friends of the bill are greatly pleased over the outcome.

FIRST SUICIDE

Under the Aiken Law—Scheld Shoots Himself Dead and Leaves a Widow to Mourn.

Saugusky, O., March 31.—Worry over the Aiken bill and fear that it was enforced it would decrease the value of his property, which was leased for school purposes, prompted Charles Scheld, a well known retired saloonist to commit suicide by shooting himself in the head Friday. He was found lying at the foot of the stairs leading to the basement by his wife. He was 49 years old.

SENATOR GORMAN IS ILL.
Washington, March 31.—It is not likely that Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland will be able to occupy his seat in the Senate again this session. Although his physicians declare he is in no immediate danger it is known his condition is not satisfactory and that he is extremely weak.

The senator was first attacked with the grip, and this has complicated an ailment which is said to be chronic. He came down stairs yesterday for the first time since he was stricken, but is not permitted to leave his residence.

FORAKER

Sends a Reply to the Ohio Legislature
Defending His Position on Railroad Rate Bill.

Columbus, March 31.—On February 22, the Legislature adopted a resolution calling upon the Ohio senators and representatives in Congress to support Roosevelt's railroad rate regulation policy. Today Senator Foraker replied to that request was received. The Senator says the President wants the interstate commerce commission to have the power to substitute reasonable or unreasonable rates subject to judicial review, quoting the President's message and Secretary Taft's utterances on the subject. This judicial review, he says, is denied by the Hepburn bill, which he denounces as an unconstitutional and ineffective. But assuming the Hepburn bill be some form will be passed and become a law, he continues, "I shall consider it my duty to do all in my power to make it a constitutional, workable and effective measure." That duty, he says, has been made free from all embarrassment to him by the passage by the Ohio Legislature of a measure erecting a railroad commission empowered to fix railway rates, so amended as to provide for a full and complete review in the courts of the orders of the commission. In view of your action," says the senator, "I feel confirmed in the opinion that it is my duty to insist upon such amendment to the Hepburn bill. In conclusion the senator congratulates the Legislature and the people of Ohio for having their 'hotting' rebuffed the sentiment that would if possible, create distrust of the courts, destroy their usefulness and deprive them of their appropriate participation in the settlement of great and far reaching questions, which legislation of the character must precipitate."

BLAME FOR GREAT LOSS OF LIFE IN FRENCH MINE DISASTER IS PLACED UPON THE ENGINEERS

Board Asserts That Fully 800 of the Victims Could Have Been Saved by Prompt Work of Rescuers.

Fourteen Victims Taken from Mine After Being Buried 20 Days are Suffering Greatly—Are Able to Take Little Nourishment—Hero Decorated With Legion of Honor Today.

Lens, France, March 31.—At a meeting of the mining commission this morning the delegates unanimously placed the responsibility for the loss of life in the recent disaster on the engineers whose duty it was to oversee the work of rescue and take charge of clearing the mine. It declared the engineers guilty of negligence as the delegates assert fully 800 of the victims could have been saved, even a week after the horror, had proper efforts been made to get them out of the mine, and declared that it is not too late to save more lives even now. The delegates submitted important evidence supporting their declarations to show that the responsibility for the wholesale deaths should rest on the engineers.

HEARSE
And Cabs Containing the Mourners
Were Stopped by the Five Prisoners, It is Charged.

Cleveland, O., March 31.—Five men were arrested and bound over to court Friday by Judge Fiedler for stopping a funeral procession. They are Harry Smith, Frank Burke, George Gerstack, Martin O'Boyle and Louis Bicht. Witnesses said that they attacked a funeral cortege Thursday near the Jewish cemetery, stopping the hearse and the cabs bearing the mourners. Windows were smashed and several of the occupants were injured.

The horses, hit by the stones, jumped off frantically and nearly dashed the cabs into a ditch. One of the mourners drew a revolver and emptied it in to the crowd.

POISON BURIED IN THE GROUND

Was Quickly Absorbed by the Potatoes and Three Who Ate Them
May Use Their Lives.

Shelbyville, Ind., March 31.—A mysterious case of poisoning has just developed in the family of George Worde, a farmer and Abel Worde, aged 12 and 14 years, are thought to be suffering from the same cause. The father is in a serious condition.

The manner in which the three received the poison into the system can only be accounted for in one way. Last fall Mrs. Worde, the mother of the two girls, died from a peculiar disease—leaving her a legacy of the fact that poison was used in an effort to check the disease.

After the death of Mr. Worde the husband buried the bodies containing the poisonous liquid in the back of his residence. Last fall Mr. Worde buried a box of potatoes within a few feet of where the poison was buried, and the children, playing in the garden, pulled the potatoes out and ate them. It is believed that the poison is due to the condition of the three women.

The women sisters have been in convulsions for several hours.

Washington, March 31.—The President today appointed Frederick W. Whitridge, New York, as a special ambassador to represent the United States at the wedding of the King of Spain.

ENTIRE FAMILY IS DEAD.
Ripley, O., March 31.—The entire family of Edward Wood was removed last night when his wife and two children, aged 3 and 4, died from pneumonia at almost the same time.

Lens, France, March 31.—Great difficulty is still found in caring for the 11 men who were rescued yesterday from the Courrières mine. The difficulty arises in giving the unfortunate sufficient food to restore their strength. They are only able to take spoonfuls of coffee, milk and cordials. The rescued men are cheerful today, but complain of being cold and shiver constantly under heaps of blankets. The men were imprisoned in the mine for 20 days.

ONE CELL
Held the Voght Boys and Slayed of Them Brother—Leave Prison
For the Funeral.

Blairford City, Ind., March 31.—Two brothers were taken from jail here Friday to attend the funeral of a third brother who was killed while defending one of them from arrest. They had spent the night in the same cell with their brother's slayer.

The brothers are Clarence and Emanuel Voght, of Montpelier. Clarence jumped his bond at Bryant, and when Green Street, his bondsman, tried to arrest him Voght's brother Edward resisted and was killed by Street.

The funeral of Voght yesterday brought to this city another brother, Emanuel, who also defaulted bond. It is claimed, after indictment by the grand jury on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He was arrested on arrival here and put in the same cell with his brother Clarence and Street.

Perkins Case Called.
New York, March 31.—Arguments on the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of George W. Perkins, former vice president of the New York Life Insurance company, who is charged in a warrant issued by Magistrate Moss with the larceny of $48,702 belonging to the policy holders of the New York Life, which he advanced to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican national committee, were made before Justice Groenbaum in the state supreme court. Decision was reserved. Briefs will be filed Monday by contending counsel, and then Justice Groenbaum will take the matter of the legality of Mr. Perkins' arrest under advisement. District Attorney Jerome argued for the prosecution and former Judge Cohen and Louis Delafeld for the defendant.

DANGER IS OVER

CITY LEAGUE REORGANIZED TO BE COMPOSED OF FOUR TEAMS

Advocate Sporting Editor Elected President of Organization With C. A. Wilson as Vice President & Secretary— Meeting Announced for Sunday Afternoon When Rules Governing Organization Will be Adopted.

The off. The City League is still in the form of a committee.

A meeting was held Friday night in the office of the Tribune when the managers of the City League were present and it was unanimously voted that the league should be reorganized and that such organization should be perfected at once.

Frank A. Woolson, sporting editor of the Advocate, and Clarence A. Wilson, holding the same position on the American-Tribune, were placed at the head of the organization, Mr. Woolson being elected president and Mr. Wilson vice president and secretary.

Frank Fox, manager of the King Company, William Ferry, representing John Dold, who managed the Consumers' team last year, Curtis Rowe, manager of last year's Powers-Miller bunch were present and voted on the organization. Jesse Stroud, manager of the Emerson Stars was not present at the meeting being out of the city at that time.

Several important questions were discussed at length and the question of the number of the teams was given special attention. It was put to vote and unanimously carried that the league should consist of four teams only. This decision was reached because the managers felt that six teams would prove unwieldy and that it would be better to finish with the same four teams which start rather than have one or two drop out during the season.

The firms about the city who will be represented in the league are the King Company, Roe Emerson, represented by Jesse Stroud, the C. R. Parish Company, represented by Curtis Rowe. Just what firm will be represented by the team under John Dold and William Ferry is not known now but will be announced at the meeting Sunday afternoon.

Each manager is to attend the meeting Sunday afternoon, armed with rules to be adopted by the league. In this way many valuable suggestions will be received. These rules will be discussed and afterwards framed up and adopted to govern the league during the season. At that time a schedule committee will be appointed to draft a schedule for the season.

The question of umpires and grounds for the season was discussed but no action was taken in the matter. The meeting Sunday afternoon will be held at 2 o'clock sharp and all managers are urged to be present at that time. The meeting will be held at the Tribune office.

SECOND PAYMENT ON GUARANTEE DUE

Local Club Has Been Asked to Forward $250 to Complete Forfeit of $500 for Failure to Finish.

The Newark baseball club has been called upon by President Charles H. Morton of the Ohio & Pennsylvania league, to make its second payment of $250 by the first of April to complete the $500 guarantee fund, posted by each of the clubs to insure their continuing throughout the season. This money must be in the hands of

NEWARK'S NEW MANAGER IS FAST.

COTTON BATES.

For the first time the general "tandem" is herewith presented with Newark's manager. Cotton Bates, whose home is in Youngstown, has been on the list as manager since early in January. He played in the West last season and comes to Newark highly recommended. His ideas are good and they are carried out. Newark's team will not finish in the second division next fall. Ferdie Druman says Cotton is one of the fastest second basemen over and this combined with his ability as a manager assures Newark fans that he will "make good" with a vengeance.

HIGH SALARIES

BEING DEMANDED BY MEMBERS OF LAST YEAR'S BALL CLUB.

Manager Hogan is Holding Off—The Prospect of Landing High Class Talent is Good.

Big league salaries alone are keeping Manager Hogan from signing a number of players who represented Youngstown on the diamond last season, says the Vindicator. Some fans in this city are wondering why Hogan doesn't gobble up some of his last year's players who are at liberty and the answer is, they value their services too highly.

Before the close of last season Hogan out of gratitude to his players for their work in his behalf, gave all the players their release, whereas, he could have reserved them and compelled them to play at the salary offered by him or not at all. Quite a few of these players have signed with Hogan at last year's salary. A number of others value their services at from $50 to $125 more than they did last season.

While Manager Hogan would like to have several of his last year's team back who are going to the Outlaw club, he figures that for $225, $250 and $275 he can get better men than those who are demanding such figures. For a strand of $250 per month Hogan can secure a number of big league castoffs and that's why he is playing a waiting game. It has five stars under consideration, and all of them are possibilities.

MARTY HOGAN.

Marty Hogan will get the discards dropped by Manager Fred Clark of the Pirates when he commences the week-end process. Marty is a good friend of Clark's.

CALLAN KICKS

One an Hour's Practice on the Ball Diamond Every Day and May Be Released.

There is discord already in the ranks of the newly organized baseball team in the police department. It is all because Officer James Callan does not want to work eleven hours every night and then go out onto the ball diamond for a spell of practicing. Captain Zergiebel issued his orders Friday night, telling his men to report for practice next week and Callan bucked.

Captain Zergiebel gave the players to understand that he would stand for no monkey business and unless Callan reports for practice he will be released at once and his place in the outfield filled by Station Keeper Atherton. The matter has not been settled but it may be appealed to Manager and Pitcher Pat Carroll.

"BIG ED" KONETCHEY

Newark's First Baseman Was Popular at La Crosse and Fans Want Him Back There.

"Big Ed" Konetchey, the elongated first baseman who has been singled by Newark, is a good man, at least one would so judge from the records which were submitted to the publishers of the baseball guides this year. In the Spaulding guide, Konetchey's name is found with a good record after it. In 196 games played with La Crosse during the season, he had 1009 put out, 78 assists and 30 errors with a percentage of .978, which is a high average for an infielder, especially a first baseman. Konetchey is still highly prized at La Crosse, and the fans there are anxious that he return but it is too late now, as the Pole has already signed a Newark contract.

SPORTING GOSSIP

August Anerbach has been awarded $10,000 damages against the Chicago American league club. He was struck by a batted ball while the White Sox were practicing.

BEZENAH SILENCES MACKEY IN SEVENTH

Bout Which Was to Go 20 Rounds Ended in Seventh With Punch on the Jaw.

Dayton, March 31—Gus Bezenah of Cincinnati, knocked out Biz Mackey of Philadelphia in the seventh round of a 20 round bout near this city last night.

Bezenah had the best of the fighting most of the way, especially in the clinches. The men fought straight rules, with one arm free in clinches.

The knockout blow which came unexpectedly, was a left to the jaw, preceded by a hook to the stomach. Bezenah's next fight will be at New Orleans. The man weighed in at 129 pounds.

Mackey was seconded by Con Riley and Bezenah by his two fighting brothers, Andy and Gene.

WRESTLER DEAD

From Making a Head Spin on the Mat in a Friendly Bout at College Gym.

Philadelphia, March 31—After lying in a semiconscious condition for two weeks in the hospital, Alexander Kemp, a senior in the college at the U. of P., died Friday from injuries received in a wrestling match in the university gym. His vertebrae was fractured at the neck and a blood clot had formed on the spinal cord, causing total paralysis of his body below his head. There was no possibility of a successful operation, as is sometimes the case. Kemp would have been a paralytic as long as he lived.

There has been much speculation as to just how Kemp received his injury. He was doing a "head spin" at the time, a sort of wriggle to get free from the further Nelson hold. He was wrestling with a man named Furlonger, who was much larger and had forced him to the floor.

In executing the "head spin" the wrestler supports himself on his head and outstretched arms, raises his feet and body into the air and spins around until he is facing his opponent. It is not regarded as a dangerous movement, but while executing it Kemp collapsed and crumpled to the floor with a broken neck.

the score of 500 to 391. He was hugged by his brother, his mother and father. There were also cheers for Slosson. Each had one miscue. Slosson was once kissed off at a critical moment and Hoppe once failed to get the spheres out of balk. That was the list of downright casualties.

NEWARK BOWLERS

Carried Off First Prizes in Tourney at Music Hall Alleys Friday Afternoon and Night.

Newark's big quintet tournament proved to be a great attraction at the Music Hall alleys last night, the Newark men winning first and second money while Zanesville and Coshocton men were on record with good scores. W. D. Baker won the first prize with a score of 168. Homer Jones won second money with a score of 155 and S. F. Timmons of Coshocton won third money with 163. The other high scores were as follows:

Baker, Newark	168
Jones, Newark	155
Timmons, Coshocton	153
Johnson, Newark	152
Liscombe, Coshocton	149
Williams, Coshocton	143
Johnson, Newark	143
Powelson, Newark	117

Stanley of Newark, won the booby prize with a score of 109.

There were 50 entries in the tournament, each man who entered bowling three games, making a total of 150 games rolled between noon Friday and midnight Friday night.

The Columbus quintet team will meet the Newark quintet rollers on the Music Hall alleys Monday afternoon.

Zanesville bowlers will be the attraction at the Music Hall alleys on Tuesday night, rolling against the Trojans.

A big quintet tournament will be pulled off on the Idlehour alleys on next Friday afternoon and night. The list of entries is still open.

LIKE MEN

The Ladies Rode Horseback Astride and the Wise Policeman Took Them to the Cooler.

El Paso, Texas, March 31—Officer Delgado created a sensation Friday by arresting two women, Lora Anderson and Bessie Brown, and charging them with riding on horseback at the time, a sort of wriggle to get free from the further Nelson hold. He was wrestling with a man named Furlonger, who was much larger and had forced him to the floor.

In executing the "head spin" the wrestler supports himself on his head and outstretched arms, raises his feet and body into the air and spins around until he is facing his opponent.

Several years ago when the divided skirt came into use in the east, some women adopted it here and shocked the community. The city council forthwith passed the ordinance.

Oxford Eight taking a stiff paddle. From the London Sporting and Dramatic News

OXFORD'S EIGHT HAS MADE SLOW PROGRESS FOR THE ANNUAL RACE WITH THE CAMBRIDGE CREW.

London, March 31—Oxford has been tried for a couple of days G. A. H. Robinson rowed a flat thwart. It seems probable that he will row at Putney, though both he and Gladstone are very light for the post.

On the whole, it is fortunate for Oxford that April 1 is the day fixed for the race, as it will enable the men to get fit in time.

The Cambridge men are all the better for a week end visit to the sea-shore, and showed more life when they got back to work. The order of rowing has remained unaltered and the men are showing improvement, though with the difference in their style they will have some difficulty in becoming a perfect crew.

Heart Trouble

The heart itself has no power—no self-control. It is made to beat by a tender nerve so tiny that it is scarcely visible to the naked eye. Yet ten thousand times a day this delicate nerve must assist the heart to expand and contract.

This nerve is only one of the branches of the great sympathetic or living nerve system. Each branch of this system is so closely allied with the others that weakness or irregularity at any point is apt to spread. Heart trouble frequently arises from stomach trouble through sympathy, and kidney trouble may also follow. For each of these organs is operated by a branch of these same sympathetic nerves—the latus nervus.

In heart, kidney or stomach troubles, it is of little use to attempt to doctor the organ itself—the most permanent relief lies in restoring the latus nervus. Dr. Shoop's Restorative Tablets nerve to be the real cause of such troubles. The remedy—known by physicians and druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid)—is the result of years of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organ to deaden the pain—but it aims to go at once to the nerve—the latus nervus—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it, and makes it well.

Every heart sufferer may have Dr. Shoop's book on the heart. It will be sent free and without cost to you will receive the "Health Token," an intended passport to good health.

For the free book, Book 1 on Hypertension, Book 2 on the Heart, Book 3 on the Kidneys, Book 4 for Women, Book 5 for Men, which book you want.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative Tablets—see full three weeks' treatment. Each form—liquid or tablet—has equal merit. Druggists everywhere.

LIVE IN HUTS FOR HEALTH.

Banker and Wife Desert Mansion in Winter and Sleep in Woods.
In a camp which is almost a duplicate of one in which he spent several weeks in Canada last fall, J. Kennedy Tod, a banker of New York, and his wife have been living since January on the shore of Long Island Sound, a few hundred feet from Jans Arden, their splendid summer home at Sound Beach, says a special dispatch from Greenwich, Conn. to the New York Herald.

Nothing could form a more striking contrast than the big house and the shabby cabin where Mr. and Mrs. Tod live. Near it is another cabin for a nurse from Bell's hospital, New York, and not far away tents for dining and cooking. From the Sound they guard the approach to the place.

The Tods spend as much time as possible in the open air, and Mr. Tod says the result is very satisfactory. The plan was adopted for the benefit of Mrs. Tod's health. She underwent an operation last winter and since that time has been in weak health. Another reason for the camp is that Mrs. Tod has been so impressed by her husband's accounts of life in the Canadian wilds that she wants to accompany him next summer, and she is now gaining some idea of life in a Canadian camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Tod do a good deal of routine work in the little habitation, and the big house is occupied only by caretakers. Mrs. Tod's bed is made of boards, while her dress is made of a modern one of brass. The walls are covered by paintings done by Mr. Tod. A little to the northwest of Mrs. Tod's hut is a much better built one, in which lives an Italian caretaker, who has been with the Tods twenty years. He has fashioned a little garden in front of Mrs. Tod's cabin.

There are stoves in the camp to supply all the heat necessary, but so accustomed have the Tods become to life in the open air that there has seldom been much need of them. Both are great lovers of nature, and they say they never have enjoyed life as much as this winter, when they have spent most of their time in the open air.

NEW SPELLING PHILOSOPHY

Children of Future May Escape Present Puzzling Forms.
"We don't want any academy like the French academy to regulate our grammar and spelling," said Dr. Charles P. G. Scott, temporary secretary of the simplified spelling board, the other day to a reporter of the New York Tribune. "The French academy is medieval and has never done anything for the French language."

Dr. Scott, who is the etymological editor of the Century Dictionary, believes that the way to regulate "spelling"—for that is the word he uses—is by a campaign of education rather than by forcing changes on the public.

"Some agency has been needed to check the continuing error in our spelling," he added. "We hope that our board will prove to be this agency. We should place spelling on the same plane with everything else. We alter our houses, our clothes, and we even change our religion. Spelling is no more sacred than religion that we should go on year after year with the old puzzling forms."

"We want to take the English language and regulate and simplify it and remove the anomalies. We think it wrong to be teaching the perverse spelling that adds the brains of the children. We expect in time to spell 'definite' without the 'e,' 'philosophy' with two 'r's' and, in general, to do away with the p's and g's that worry children."

Alligator as Watchdog.
Ed Kelley is going to open up a new industry in Kansas, Mo., it being nothing other than an alligator farm, says the Kansas City Journal. He recently received from Frank Weinreich, who is down in New Orleans, a pair of genuine French alligators by express. They are male and female, and it is Kelley's intention to make a business of raising them for sale. "As is well known, an alligator makes one of the most reliable watchdogs, if such they may be called, there is in existence, and they can be trained to keep off all vermin and even suspicious persons from the premises. They can be taught to bark like a dog, and their bark most resembles that of a genuine bulldog, and owing to their uncouth or repugnant appearance there is nothing that will venture upon the premises where they are located."

Town Nosed as Hobo Retreat.
The lookout of the town of Sulley, south of Wapakoneta, O., is becoming famous throughout that part of Ohio among the "Woody Willies" fraternity as the hobos' pet, it says a Wapakoneta special dispatch to the Chicago Record-Herald. During the past four months 48 traps have been set along there over night, a record of the hoboers being kept in the town's office by the police. The number is posted every morning. The following is the record for the four months: November, 8; December, 115; January, 109; February, 167.

Eggs With a Monogram.
Mrs. H. H. Posner of Riverhead, N. Y., has a flock of Barred Rock hens of which she is justly proud, for they are now beginning to lay eggs with a monogram on them. "P. H. Posner" is the monogram in fact, and it is almost accurate. "H. H. P." says a Liverpool dispatch. In various ways the flock has proved to be of excellent quality, but since the ladies began to lay eggs as to the ownership of which there can be no question, Mrs. Posner intimates that they are so valuable that no person can buy them.

Mr. Ralph Wyeth, Mr. Walter Flory, Mr. Lee Wyeth, Mr. A. G. Wyeth, Mr. Charles Montgomery, Mr. James Cooper of McComb, Mr. Thompson of Brattleboro, Vt.

The engagement of Miss Elizabeth Thomas of Dayton and Mr. Harry Davis has been announced.

Mr. Walter Flory of Cleveland, who was in the city for the Wyeth-McCune wedding, entertained informally with a six o'clock dinner Wednesday evening at the Jackson Hotel. The table was prettily decorated with pink and white carnations. Covers were laid for Miss Alice McCune, Mrs. Scott Wilson, Mrs. William Rex, Miss Alice Ulrick, Misses Eleanor and Julia McCune, Mr. Ralph Wyeth, Mr. Lee Wyeth, Mr. Cooper of McComb, Mr. Thompson of Brattleboro, Vt., and Mr. Flory.

Mrs. W. D. Jones handsomely entertained the silent circle of the King's Daughters at her home in East Main street on Friday evening, March 23. Following is the program:

Mrs. Shearson—Pianist.
Miss Ethel Wood—Vocalist.
Miss Martha Flurschütz—Violinist.
Miss Dixon and Mr. George Hamilton—Recitations.
Mr. John Eagleson—Cornetist.
Miss Grace Jones—Accompanist.
"Eden Land" (Solo).
"Jamm Karmen, No. 1, O-tem" (Rubin-teln).
Recitation.
"College Life"—Trio.
"Simple Aven" (Thome).
Recitation.
"Lady of the North"—Trio.
"Forgotten" (Cowles).
"Home, Sweet Home"—Trio.

The banquet of the Harmonious club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers in East Main street. Miss Lillie Shamp charmingly received the guests as they arrived. At 8 o'clock the guests repaired to the banquet room where an elaborate six course dinner was served. The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Large festoons of pink and white ribbons entwined with garlands were draped from the chandelier to the corners of the table on the center of which was a large bunch of pink and white carnations. After dinner was served Miss Gwendolyn Ramsey dispensed punch as the guests left the room. The evening was spent in music and progressive games. The first prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jennie Johns and Mr. Joe Evans. The consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Harry Johns and Mr. E. E. Moore.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Adams, Clyde and Mrs. Moore.

Light tokens of esteem, and that real worth should not be estimated by the cost alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford would have made a special but there is a time when the heart is too full for the mouth to utter, and they do sincerely wish to thank all for the esteem and kindness of their host of friends. While we hope we all may live to celebrate their golden wedding.

The guests present were: Dr. and Mrs. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fulton, Miss Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vachon, Mr. and Mrs. Bates, Mrs. P. T. Green, Mrs. S. I. McKinney, Mrs. Thomas E. Adams, Clyde and Mrs. Moore, and Mrs. G. W. Stinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ford.

Quite an enjoyable party was given by Mrs. Eliza Armitage at her country home near Hudson in honor of Mrs. Mager, who is visiting the Misses Elizabeth and Melia Armstrong. Quite a number of young folks from Newark attended and during the evening many refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Zoar Belmont, Lillian Peterson, Arla Scott, Lillian Grier, Elizabeth and Melia Armstrong, Elia and Emma Armstrong, and Messrs. C. B. Lewis, Vincent Bess, Dan Bess, Perry Russell, James and Wm. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

The neighbors on South Fifth street never do anything by halves and this fact was proven last Thursday evening when about 100 of them participated in a surprise "Kitchen and parlor shower" on Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Lippincott at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Lippincott were placed in the center of the large back parlor where dozens of mysterious packages were set before them and the pleasant task of opening them began. Everything a good housewife needs was found there.

When the excitement had somewhat abated, the scene was repeated, the victims this time being the bride-elect Miss Daisy Hughes and Mr. F. S. Homer. Music and readings by Mr. Cliff Rosebrough finished the evening's entertainment. At a late hour delicious refreshments were furnished the guests.

Much credit is due Mrs. Rosebrough, Mrs. S. D. McCann and Mrs. J. M. Beall for their untiring efforts in making the surprise complete, and the evening a most enjoyable one for all.

An enjoyable and interesting affair was the art reception given by Mrs. A. H. Rector and Mrs. Lucilla Gurney Rauch at the home of Mrs. Rickert, corner Fourth and Chestnut streets, Thursday and Friday of this week.

The guests who took advantage of this art display were graciously received by the hostesses, Mrs. Rauch was beautifully adorned in white lace with pearl trimmings and Mrs. Rickert in a dainty flowered silk mulle.

Many beautiful paintings, the work of Mrs. Rauch, were exhibited, flowers predominating as the subjects, roses that grew in California and New England being especially noticed for their exquisite beauty. The "Purity Roses" an "Old Vase with Sunflower" and "A Bunch of Gold of Ophir Roses" are copies of the latter picture having been sold to Mr. Howard Gould.

Mrs. Rauch is well known throughout the country as an artist, her pictures having been exhibited at New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington. She has resided in California for some time past, but will now make her home in Greenville, and will continue her art work.

Nearly 100 pictures were exhibited and were a delight to the art lovers who saw them. Much and more were served and a delightful spirit of hospitality was everywhere.

The Misses Rich Hickert had a number of beautiful Easter cards with illuminated pictures for own handiwork on exhibition, which were much admired.

DWELLERS IN CONES

THE STRANGE HOMES OF THE TROGLODYTES OF CAPPADOCIA.

Their Abodes Are Circular or Conical Shaped Formations of Volcanic Material—Chapels and Churches Exist in Some of Them.

Now that the western continent has been pretty well explored the old world is getting the main share of the attention of those who are in search of the strange and unknown. Despite its age the old world has only been partly explored as yet, and the enterprise, curiosity, courage and scientific zeal of the men who have lately penetrated the hidden secrets of darkest Africa, Baby-lonia, Tibet and the wilds of Asia have added immeasurably to the sum of human knowledge. Attention has recently been called anew to the curious fact that right in the heart of Asia Minor, but a short distance away from the seats of ancient civilization, there are people who live in caves and have done so from the dawn of history. The cave dwellers of Cappadocia are known as troglodytes, from the Greek word meaning cave, and their existence as a cave dwelling people can be traced back for nearly 4,000 years. What distinguishes these cave dwellers from others especially is the fact that they live not in ordinary caverns or holes in the ground, but in cones or pyramids of volcanic formation which take all kinds of curious forms. In these cones are often found comfortable dwellings, with many household conveniences, and in some are temples and churches and chapels with columns and ornate decorations in the familiar Byzantine style.

CONES NEAR MARTIAN.

Paul Lukas, who in the time of Louis XIV. and on the commission of that monarch traveled in Cappadocia and described the troglodytes, estimated the number of cone dwellings at 50,000 and a recent writer thinks that this estimate is probably too low instead of too high. Strabo, the Greek historian and geographer who flourished about the beginning of the Christian era, mentions the troglodytes of Asia Minor, and they are referred to by Leo Diaconus, who lived about the middle of the tenth century A. D. The cones of these regions are of pumice stone or similar volcanic material, and it is an easy matter to excavate chambers within them, as the stone is so soft that it can often be dug away with the thumb nail. A cone dwelling often has several floors or stories, access to which is had by ladder holes cut in the rock and forming a sort of winding stairway. Sometimes houses composed of blocks of pumice stone are found in front of the cone dwellings and connected with them, and again, cliff dwellings are found in connection with the abode in the interior of the cones. Rich cave dwellers sometimes have houses made of blocks of stone, behind which their apartments ascend into the cones above or run back into the hillside or even beneath the earth upon which their vineyards grow or their flocks feed. This affords a very convenient means of enclosing crops and wealth of various kinds in a land where property is none too safe and the fox gathers is rapacious.

A cone village presents a very picturesque and fantastic sight. The strange aspect which the cones would naturally have is intensified by the holes in their surfaces for entrance and egress. In some villages the cones are now principally in use as dovecotes for the pigeons which abound and are in great demand both as food and for the eggs which they produce. In other villages there are cones within which are chapels or churches, and in some of the latter, which possess a considerable degree of architectural finish and beauty, paintings of Greek saints may still be seen, while beneath the floors (part or in part) the bones of cave or cone dwellers who departed this life centuries ago.

Inhabitants of these villages differ little in appearance and habits from those of ordinary Turkish towns. The soil in the neighborhood is usually fertile, and many cone or cliff dwellers have fine gardens.

FREINER WILL GO TO REFORMATORY

JUDGE SEWARD SENTENCED THE YOUNG MAN TO THE MANS-FIELD INSTITUTION.

For Unlawfully Killing Thomas Osborne Last April—News of the Court House.

State of Ohio vs. Harry Freiner, convicted of manslaughter, motion for new trial overruled. The defendant was sentenced to the Intermediate Penitentiary at Mansfield. Upon application, the sentence was suspended for 15 days to enable the defendant to file the petition in error in the Circuit court. In suspending the sentence the court stated that there were many questions raised in the case on the trial that were important, and that the sentence should be suspended.
Upon the filing of the petition in error, the court will be asked to fix the amount of recognizance pending the proceedings in the Circuit court. Fitzgibbon, Fulton & Fulton; Hunter &
Hunter, Smythe & Smythe.

State of Ohio vs. Samuel Kerr, convicted of assault and battery. The court sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of $50 and costs of the last trial.
A suspension of sentence for 15 days was allowed to give the defendant time to perfect error proceedings in the Circuit court. Fitzgibbon; Hunter & Hunter.

Grace M. Jones vs. Charles R. Jones, decree of divorce granted plaintiff;
defendant to pay $500; small house given plaintiff, and piano. Notice of appeal given by defendant to Circuit court; bond fixed at $100.
J. J. D. McNamir vs. Cora H. Gray, administratrix, motion for a new trial overruled. Daugherty, Kibler & Montgomery; Swartz, J. B. Jones.

Answer to Amended Petition.

In the case of Abel J. Wilson and others vs. Ross Wilson and Charles Stodolke, the defendants have filed their answer to the amended petition of the plaintiffs. They ask that the temporary restraining order heretofore granted be dissolved; that a judgment of $100, the amount of the injunction bond, be entered against the plaintiff, for damages sustained by the defendants on account of the improper granting of the injunction.
Improper granting of the injunction, court may find and decree that the defendant, Ross Wilson, is the owner in fee simple of the five-sixths of the premises on that she is the owner of a life estate in the other one-sixth of the property. She further asks that the title to the property may be quieted in her and for such other and further relief in equity as they are entitled to. J. B. Jones, attorney.

New Law Firm.

A new law partnership is about to be formed between Attorney L. C.
Russell and Attorney J. W. Horner.
The new firm will begin business under the name of Russell & Horner, April 2, with their offices in rooms 1 and 2 of the Flock and Zartman building, West Main street.

Mr. Russell, whose office was formerly in the Lansing block, came to this city about three years ago from McConnellsville, O., where he was engaged in the practice of law for some time, while Mr. Horner has been in this city for some time and has become very well known.

VERDICT SET ASIDE

Saturday afternoon Judge Seward reversed the verdict of the jury in the case of Ohio vs. Perry Davis. The defendant had been convicted of criminal assault, the prosecuting witness being Esther Burdickholder of Granville township. The court held that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence. Edward Kibler represented the defendant.

BIBLE HISTORY BY PROF. X. KOENIG

A book sure to be welcomed by all Sunday school teachers, no matter what denomination, is "Bible History" by Pastor X. Koenig. The volume is intended as a text book on the study of the Old Testament, and is arranged for students of different ages.
It contains fifty-two lessons, one for every Sunday of the year. Mr. Koenig, while not a Radical, takes toward the Bible the view necessitated by the results of modern historical criticism.

His purposes is to make the Bible known as it is or must be for us of this generation. He believes it is the word of God quite as truly as it is the word of man, and he believes that it is the work of miracle from cover to cover, but he considers it wrong to reach it to young people from any other standpoint than that of sincere-ty. He hopes also through this little book to make the Bible again known and loved by the grown-up Protestant Christians who are neglecting it altogether from the loss of faith in the old conceptions of it. Pastor Koenig is connected with the Protestant theological schools of Paris, and will be remembered as the companion of Pastor Charles Wagner during the latter's lecture tour in America a year ago.

Lack of Coal.

Joplin, Mo., March 31.—Already a few of the mines in the Missouri Kansas zinc mines have been compelled to close because of lack of coal.
The railroads have ceased shipping coal and are consigning all commercial shipments, so that within a few days practically all of the mines running on coal will be in distress.

COMPANY G 4TH O. N. G.

Formerly Co. G of the 7th-47th Regiment of Infantry Entertain-
Their Friends.

Friday evening, March 30, was a "red letter" night for the officers and men of our local company of National Guardsmen, upon which occasion they tendered a social spread. The tables were set in a "millingly manner," and the members of the company sat down at 8 o'clock to discuss a splendid supper, prepared by those "only providers," "Sargeants" ("Tacks") Nehls and ("Bones") Deedlin.

Oysters and coffee with fixings,
followed by punch, and then cigars were smoked and enjoyed by all.
Captain George Henry called upon the guests and appropriate remarks were made by all guests present. The company intends to inject new life into old Co. G, and it was resolved to solicit business men to become contributory members and assist the boys to keep the company standard where it always has been, at the top of the organization of the Ohio National guard. The makeup of the company is much better than formerly, and there is still room for a few patriotic boys.

The banquet last night will pass into the history of the company as one of the most pleasant occasions.
The following were the guests present. Major Elmer Blizzard, Captain
Tim Gilmore, Capt. W. H. Knapp,
Rev. J. C. Schindler, ex-Capt. Charles W. Miller, Mr. Joseph Myers, Mr. Edward Nehls, Mr. John Factor and friend, George Roe and "Rosie."

Many old times were talked about and plenty of "war talk" was kept up until a late hour.

GAVE JUDGMENT FOR THE STATE

Demurrers of Cincinnati Treasurers' Overruled

INDICATES JURY'S ACTION

WHICH IS NOW ENGAGED IN HEARING TESTIMONY IN CRIMINAL CASES

The Amount of Money Recovered as a Result of Drake Committee's Investigation Is $211,000

Cincinnati, O., March 31.—County Prosecutor Rullison filed civil suits against County Treasurer Hynicka and former County Treasurers Thiden R. French and John H. Gibson to recover amounts which it is claimed were paid to them by him. The suits indicate the course of the special grand jury which has been for some days investigating the question of deposit of county funds. Filed in the common pleas court, the action was taken up at once by Judge Samuel Smith, demurrers having been prepared by attorneys for the three defendants. The suits mention the following sums for recovery: R. K. Hynicka, $58,370; Thiden R. French, $55,740; John H. Gibson, $97,064. With the filing of the demurrer Prosecutor Rullison stated the case and introduced as witness Harry Walters, expert accountant. Judge Smith then overruled the demurrer, gave judgment for the state, and the amounts were formally announced as paid. Prosecutor Rullison announced that similar action would be taken against those former county treasurers who have declined to respond to Rullison's request for a settlement.

The amount of money recovered has reached $211,000.

The collection of this money has followed testimony before the Drake investigating committee named by the state senate to examine the public offices of Cincinnati and Hamilton county. County Treasurer Hynicka, some of his subordinates and several bankers told of the payment of gratuities, or interest, in return for the deposits of public funds. The public discussion that ensued brought checks from Hynicka, Gibson and French, and statements that they would hand over whatever amounts it was shown that they had received, if it was legally decided that the money did not belong to them.

FACED FAMINE.

Tribesmen Kill Their Families and Commit Suicide.

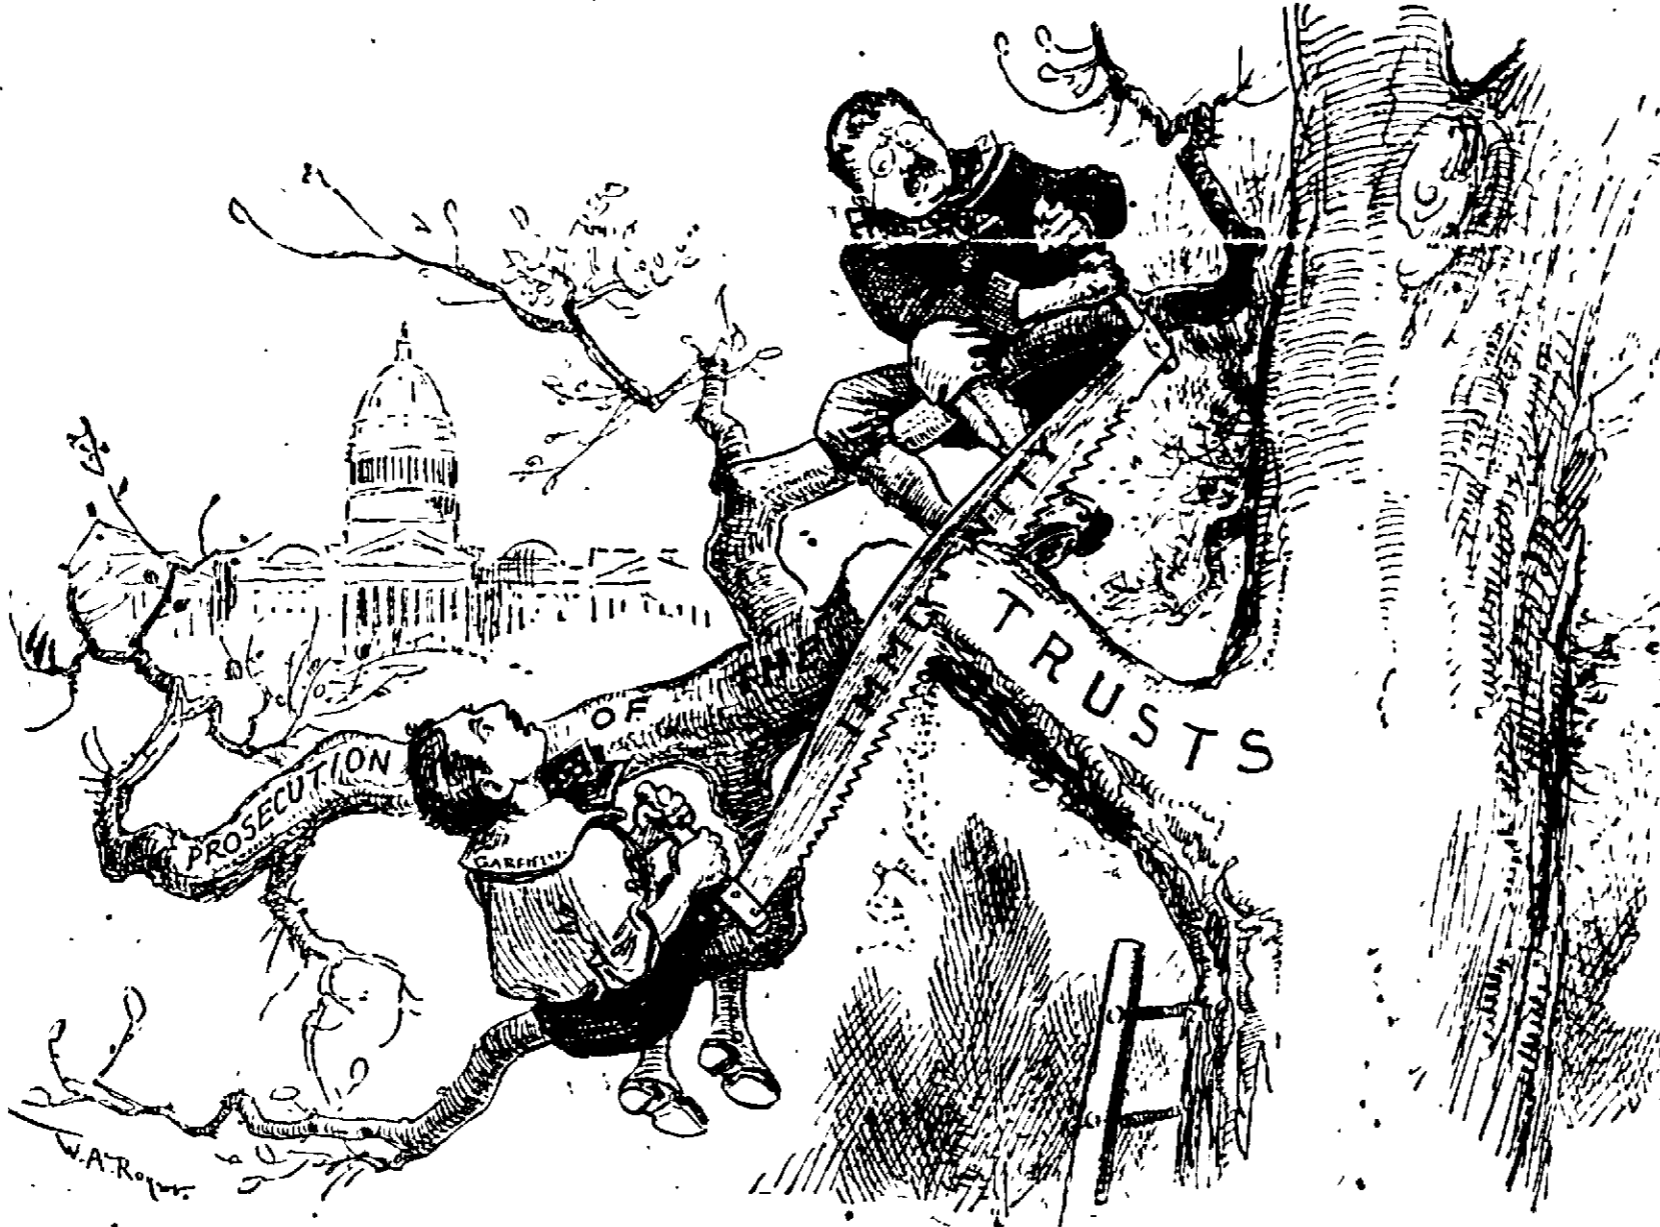

St. Petersburg, March 31.—Gruesome accounts are reaching St. Petersburg of cannibalism and starvation among tribes inhabiting the frozen Arctic plain of the Chukchi peninsula, at the east extremity of Asia. Most of the reindeer died of starvation during the winters of 1904-1905, leaving the inhabitants without means of communication or food. During the last winter whole tribes have died, and members of the Onoulons and Oloiya tribes, when facing starvation, assembled in council and decided that nothing remained but death. They agreed that each head of a family should kill his wife and children and then commit suicide. The tribesmen gathered on a plateau covered with snow and ice and in the darkness of the Arctic winter the Spartan decision was executed, not a single member of the two tribes surviving. More revolting still is the story of what occurred in a family of the Yukagir tribe. A mother and nine of her children having died of hunger, the father, a surviving daughter and nephew lived on the remains, and when they were consumed the father murdered the nephew.

TROOPS OUT.

Strike at Winnipeg Assuming Grave Proportions.

Winnipeg, Man., March 31.—The street strike situation is rapidly acquiring grave proportions. A mob assumed such threatening attitude that regulars were called out. The regulars lined up at the corner of Higgins and Main with fixed bayonets. This did not awe the crowd, which attacked a car and attempted to pull off the crew. Mayor Sharpe then read the riot act and was greeted with hoots and jeers. The soldiers loaded their guns with ball cartridges, and the mob failing to disperse, a charge with fixed bayonets was ordered. This had the effect in keeping back the crowd of wildly excited men.

JUSTICE HARLAN WILL NOT RETIRE

Washington, March 31.—Justice Harlan's attention was called to the statement that he contemplated retiring from the bench and giving his time to the work of establishing a great Presbyterian church at Washington. He said he felt deeply interested in that work and had expressed his willingness to aid it in every way in his power, but that he had no present purpose to retire from the bench at any particular time or for any special purpose.

Going to the North Pole.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 31.—Major H. B. Herzog, section director of the weather bureau at Milwaukee and inspector of western stations, received a telegram from Washington telling him to report as soon as possible at Washington to prepare for the Wellman expedition to the north pole.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR'S ACTS ARE CRITICIZED

Prince von Buelow

BERLIN, March 31.—The position of the Imperial Chancellor, Prince Buelow, with Emperor William has been the subject of much discussion among the public recently. Now and then a German newspaper has printed guardedly an intimation of a "Chancellor crisis," which has been followed by demands on the part of new papers having official connections. It is certainly true that Prince Buelow has been much criticized, and there is a disposition to blame him for the suspicion and distrust of Germany manifested abroad, and several government measures, especially the taxation projects, have not been approved by the Reichstag. Criticism, however, centers upon the Chancellor for everything which any one disapproves of. His position has been especially difficult during uncertainties resulting from the conference at Algiers, and his ill-wishers have utilized the opportunity to conduct a limited press campaign against him.

Want Fines Refunded.

Butte, Mont., March 31.—F. A. Heinze, J. H. Treritz and A. L. Frank desire to recover fines they were required to pay into the federal court by Judge Beattie of Idaho in the Michael Davitt case. Heinze's fine was $20,000, and the others $1,000 each. J. M. Denny, their attorney, petitioned the court to return the fines with interest, $5,400. Denny takes the position that the money was paid in as a pledge and that it should be returned to the petitioners, the Heinze suits having been settled.

Ohio River Rising.

Evansville, Ind., March 31.—The Ohio river continues to rise here at a rapid rate and stands nearly 34 feet, which is but one foot within the danger line. A stage of about 38 or 40 feet is expected. Many lowlands are flooded and considerable corn has been lost. A dispatch from Petersburg, Ind., states that White river is rising at the rate of two inches an hour.

UNIVERSITY LEVIES FIXED

Conference Committee Reports a Substitute For Sites Bill.

END OF WARM CONTROVERSY

Schoolteachers' Pension Proposition Passes the Senate — Agreement on Wertz Railroad Commission Bill. Important Measures Receive the Attention of the General Assembly.

Columbus, O., March 31.—The conference committee on the Sites university bill reported back a substitute measure fixing the levies for the universities for the future as follows: Ohio State university, 16 of a mill; Athens, 04, and Miami, 03 1/2. Both Miami and Ohio universities are restricted in their expenditures from the funds derived from these levies to the courses of study in the liberal arts and the normal branches. Neither may any of these funds be expended for buildings or other equipment. The Ohio State university shall be devoted to affording the youth of the state a higher, technical, liberal, professional, graduate and industrial education, including manual training, while there may be established, if it is so willed by the trustees, a teachers' college of professional grade. Ohio State may not establish a normal department, however.

The schoolteachers' pension bill of Representative Adler passed the senate. It provides that bonds of education may set aside not more than 2 per cent of the gross receipts from such a fund, and pay into the fund all deductions made from teachers' salaries from whatever reason. Action by them is optional. Any teacher retiring by the board, or voluntarily retiring, may be entitled to the benefits of the fund, not exceeding a sum equal to $10 a year for each year's service he has rendered, not greater than $300 a year.

Bills passed in senate: H. B. Mr. Braun, amending the present laws relating to the practice of pharmacy; H. B. Mr. Thomas, relating to election precincts and giving voters in adjacent territory the right to vote in villages; H. B. Mr. Shuler, to provide for the opening of streets; H. B. Mr. Hill, to prevent explosion of dust charged air and gas machines; H. B. Mr. Leach, authorizing a school district boards and boards of education to establish and maintain day schools for the deaf; H. B. Mr. Frizzell, to establish a technical and industrial department in Girls' industrial home. Bills passed by the House: S. B. Mr. Gayman, codifying and strengthening the juvenile court laws; S. B. Mr. Williams, conforming the terms of municipal officers to the recent constitutional amendment; S. B. Mr. Rose, providing for an additional common pleas judge in the first subdivision of the Seventh judicial district; S. B. Mr. Huffman, providing for an additional judge in the first subdivision of the Second judicial district.

tional judge in the first subdivision of the Second judicial district.

A rifle range for the National Guard is provided for by the Betty senate bill, which passed the house. Bill appropriates $25,000.

Wertz Bill Amended.

The joint conference report on the Wertz bill to create a state railroad commission, with power to regulate freight rates, was agreed to by the house. The bill was amended so as to strike out the anti-pass measure and to restore the six-years term of members.

Owners and operators of motor cars are compelled to register with the secretary of state according to the provisions of Sawicki's bill, which passed the house.

The house passed the West senate bill making terms of members of state board of public works four instead of three years, and providing that the board may lease canal land without approval of the state canal commission, but with approval of governor and attorney general.

The senate adopted Senator Gayman's resolution requesting the governor to appoint a commission on tax laws, to serve without compensation.

The house passed Representative Hillenkamp's measure repealing section 557 of the Revised Statutes so that electric or gas companies already existing or hereafter organized may bid on public lighting contracts without first securing the consent of the voters. Vote: 79 yeas, 1 nay.

Mr. Van Puse's house bill providing for the deposit of township funds on competitive bidding passed the senate without opposition.

On report of committee the Hillenkamp bill to enable the people of municipalities to admit rival private public utilities companies, gas, water, electric, etc., came up in the senate and was passed, 25 to 5.

The house reconsidered the vote whereby it refused to concur in the senate amendments to the Conroy prosecuting attorney salary bill and agreed to them.

Actress Dead.

New York, March 31.—George Wells, an actress, who had been playing the leading feminine role of "The Chairman," died in a hospital after a surgical operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Storer's Denial.

Vienna, March 31.—It is stated by persons on intimate terms with Mr. and Mrs. Storer that the latter intends to take up her husband's case as her own. She is quoted as emphatically denying having sent a private letter from President Roosevelt for the purpose of helping Archbishop Ireland. Mrs. Storer will not discuss the matter.

Second Peace Conference.

Washington, March 31.—In a communication to the house Secretary Root asks for $50,000 to enable this government to participate in the second international peace conference. The secretary submits the draft of a section which appropriates the money and states the conference is to be held at The Hague.

Arkansas Primaries.

Little Rock, Ark., March 31.—With practically complete returns from 62 out of 75 counties, Governor Jefferson Davis has a majority of 2,072 over Senator James B. Berry for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. Senator Berry, at his home in Bentonville, again declined to express his views as to the probable result, but he is prepared to await further returns. Returns from the Fourth Congressional district indicate the nomination of W. B. Cravens of Fort Smith for representative in congress to succeed John S. Little, nominated for governor.

MORBID CROWD WITNESS EXECUTION

Austin, Tex., March 31.—Fully 10,000 people witnessed the public hanging of Tom Young, in Williamson county, 39 miles north of this city. The hanging occurred on the open prairie and spectators came from a radius of 50 miles, hundreds being with their families in wagons. Young was a white man, about 30 years old, and was convicted of assaulting and murdering a 16-year-old girl whom he had adopted.

Age Limit Eliminated.

Washington, March 31.—The house passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying thirty millions of dollars, after considering the measure two weeks. The feature of the proceedings was the elimination of the age limit of clerks, a provision which created much discussion and which inflamed the fight against the bill. The bill as passed carries nearly $700,000 less than the last appropriation bill for similar purposes.

Greet Mrs. Roosevelt.

Fernandina, Fla., March 31.—Mrs. Roosevelt and her party arrived here from Jacksonville and were met at the station by nearly the entire town. The ladies of the Episcopal guild sent Mrs. Roosevelt a magnificent tray of flowers. The party immediately went on board the yacht Mayflower, but did not go to sea owing to the high winds that prevailed.

On two occasions we are asked to cheer, or at least shout, why we reject them not?

LEGISLATURE WILL ADJOURN

Leaving a Hundred and Fifty Bills Unpassed

THE PUBLIC IS BETTER OFF

IN ALL PROBABILITY BY HAVING THEM THROWN OVERBOARD

Governor Pattison Was Relieved at the Announcement That Adjournment Was Fixed For Monday.

(Special to Advocate.)

Columbus, March 31.—When the first session of the Seventy-seventh General Assembly reaches final adjournment at noon next Monday, it will leave more than 150 bills still pending. Most of them are local in character, but some general, and many ought to become laws. As a whole, however, it is probable that the people of the state will be better off by having all of them thrown overboard than they would be by having all of them passed. For several days past steering committees in both houses have been sifting out the bills necessary to be enacted and advancing them on the calendar at the expense of the less important ones. What will become of those left over is now problematical. The House and Senate are now working on the last calendar, and in each house the calendar may be taken up two years hence, if it is so desired, just where it will be left off Monday. But it is more probable that at the beginning of the second session a resolution will be adopted wiping out all bills on the calendar and those in committee, so that the session may begin work with a clean slate.

Governor Pattison was relieved by the announcement that the adjournment resolution had been agreed upon, and at once gave expression to his long cherished hope that he might soon return to his country home in Milford. There is something very pathetic about this, because there is indeed very little probability that the governor will soon be able to travel, even if he survives his present illness. Nevertheless the legislature has done what it could to relieve him. So far as he understands its work the governor is well satisfied with the achievements of the present session.

Collided With Freight.

Abilene, Tex., March 31.—The east-bound Texas & Pacific passenger train collided with a freight train near Eskola, caused, it is claimed, by the failure of the freight to make the siding at Eskola in time for the passenger to pass. Both engines escaped injury. Both engines were disabled. None of the passengers received any serious injuries, though a number were painfully hurt.

Wright Takes the Oath.

Washington, March 31.—Luke E. Wright, former governor general of the Philippines, became ambassador of the United States to Japan. The oath of office was taken by General Wright at the state department, and he will leave Washington for Memphis, Tenn., to make preparations for sailing for Japan from Seattle on April 23.

To Meet at Wilmington.

Richmond, Ind., March 31.—Announcement was made here that the Friends' International Christian Endeavor union will be held at Wilmington, O., July 23 to Aug. 1. This year many of the most prominent Friends in America as well as others eminent in the field of education and religion will take part.

Spring Trade.

New York, March 31.—Bradstreet's says: Cross-currents are visible in the business situation. Unsettled weather making for bad roads has been a check to spring demands, which also feel the influence of the impending coal strike. The advent of springlike weather accompanying the former development is, however, favorable to improvement later on, and the hope is still expressed that the coal strike will be localized to some extent and will not materially interfere with industry which seems fairly well supplied with fuel. There are reports that spring planting is intensified with east and south, but later advices point to planting activity beginning in the southwest, and from the winter wheat belt uniformly favorable dispatches are received.

DEFENDS RAILWAY RELIEF SYSTEMS

Dr. Priest Declares Those Directly Interested in Associations Don't Desire Changes—Denies Members Sign Papers Releasing Companies From Responsibility for Damages.

Dr. S. C. Priest of Newark and Columbus, examiner for the U. S. & O. railroad for a quarter of a century, and a pioneer in the organization of railway relief associations, in a statement vigorously defended the associations from attacks made upon them recently by those seeking legislation to curb their operations. It has been said that if the pending legislation is passed, the associations may be obliged to cease business in Ohio.

Dr. Priest said he had been at pains to collect data and statistics concerning the operation of the various railway relief associations. He declared that the thousands directly interested do not desire the changes proposed by the pending bills.

The prevalent understanding that when employees become members of associations they sign papers entirely releasing the companies from responsibility for damages, the physician says, is erroneous. The employees do not forfeit their right to sue, he says, but they do agree to elect one of two actions, accept the benefit provided by the relief department or sue, and in the event they choose the latter, they are estopped from later claiming the benefit.

Dr. Priest pointed out that the benefits paid out from year to year for deaths due to sickness and natural causes were greatly in excess of those paid out for accidental deaths. He said:

There are six railroad companies operating relief departments in the United States. These companies operate 31,000 miles of line and employ 310,000 men, or about 22.1 per cent of the railroad employees in the United States. Of these, 255,000 (or about 75 per cent) are members of the relief departments.

The general basis of the operation of these departments is that the railway companies pay all the expenses of management, guarantee the integrity of the fund and the performance of the contract; and if the contributions from the members and the income from other sources are not sufficient to meet the demands upon the funds, the deficiencies are made good by the companies. At the close of the last fiscal year the companies had paid to the various relief departments on account of deficiencies about $700,000, and for operating expenses up to that time they had paid about five and three-quarter millions of dollars; this last in addition to the $700,000 for deficiencies.

The members of the relief departments are contributing annually about three and one-half millions of dollars, and up to the end of the last fiscal year they had contributed about thirty-nine and one-half millions of dollars.

The contributors and their beneficiaries are receiving annually about three and one-half millions of dollars in benefits as follows:

Deaths due to sickness, $875,000; deaths due to accident, $570,000; disbursements from sickness, $1,150,000; disbursements from accident, $950,000, making a total payment per annum on account of deaths and disbursements from sickness of about two millions of dollars, and on account of disbursements and deaths from accident of about one and one-half millions of dollars. These figures show how erroneous is the impression that the relief departments were organized solely for the purpose of relieving the companies from payment for accidental injuries and deaths, the amounts paid out on account of sickness and natural deaths being considerably in excess of those paid for accidental injuries and deaths.

From the establishment of the relief departments up to the end of the last fiscal year the members and their beneficiaries have received about thirty-seven and one-half millions of dollars in benefits as follows:

Deaths due to sickness, $19,000,000; deaths due to accident, $6,000,000; disbursements from sickness, $12,500,000; disbursements from accident, $9,000,000, making a total payment on account of deaths and disbursements from sickness of twenty-two and one-half millions of dollars, and on account of disbursements and deaths from accident of fifteen millions of dollars. These figures emphasize still more strongly the fact that the chief advantage of the relief department to its members is the protection afforded against sickness and deaths from natural causes, the payments on these accounts having been 50 per cent greater than those on account of accident and accidental death.

The total natural death disability carried by all the relief departments is one hundred and twenty-eight millions of dollars.

During the last fiscal year 1176 members of the relief departments died from sickness and $70 from accident. Eighty-five thousand members received benefits on account of sickness and fifty thousand on account of accident.

The amounts paid by the companies for expenses of administering the relief departments represents only the actual cash outlay for the salaries of persons employed exclusively in the work of the relief department, and does not include any charge for facilities furnished by the companies, such as the collection of contributions, the distribution of benefits, the use and services of the clerks, offices and employees in all the departments of the companies in handling the various relief department funds, reports, etc., for office rooms, furniture, the use of telephone and telegraph, etc.

A comparison of the operation of the relief departments with the best business doing accident insurance business will show that the expenses of management of these accident insurance companies are a little over 50 per cent of their premium receipts, in other words, when a man pays one dollar into one of these companies, at least one-half of it goes for expenses; consequently if the members of the relief departments had to be in the entire expense of management, they would have to pay double what they are now paying, that is, instead of contributing three and one-half millions of dollars a year they would have to pay about seven millions.

One of the most liberal of the accident insurance companies doing railway business charges a freight broker a death insurance against accident of $500 and a disability insurance against accident of $700 per week. A member of a relief department, to secure this indemnity in the event of death from accident and an accident disability benefit of $7 per week, would have to pay only $7.20 per year.

If these relief departments are wiped out or crippled by legislation to such an extent that they would be compelled to go out of business, a very large number of their members would be unable by reason of their age or occupation or their physical condition to get insurance elsewhere.

If the employees did not desire to become members of the relief departments and only did so because of pressure brought to bear upon them, they would take the lowest insurance which the departments offer, which would be 50 cents per day disability benefit and $250 death benefit. That the men realize the value of the relief departments and the opportunities they offer, it is only necessary to state that they are carrying more than double the amount of insurance above stated—or 92 cents per day disability benefit and $777 death benefit.

The U. S. & O. relief department at Ford facilities to the employees of the company to protect themselves against all the vicissitudes of life and their occupation, in that they can insure against accident, sickness, death and old age—securing the latter through the pension feature.

A good deal of the opposition to the relief department idea is the result of misunderstanding of that part of the contract of membership relating to the accident feature. It is pretty generally understood, or seems to be, that when a man makes application for membership in a relief department he relinquishes his right to sue the company in the event of injury and that his family cannot sue the company if he is killed through its negligence.

This is entirely wrong. It would be useless for the company to have its men sign such a contract and it would be of no account as a defense against a suit for damages arising out of an accident occurring after the contract was made, the courts having decided in many cases that an attempt to contract out of liability in advance is void.

The applicant for membership in a railroad relief department does agree, however, that if he is injured, he must elect to do one of two things—to accept benefits and give a release of his claims against the company, or to pursue some other course of action for the adjustment of his claim. And he agrees that if he chooses the benefits offered by the relief department, he shall be estopped from recovering damages from the company. The company has a perfect right to demand a release in consideration of the payment of benefits for accident, but it is not the fact that it practically contributes to the fund dollar for dollar with this employee, and the courts have in numerous cases upheld the company's right to require a release and the validity of such a release as a bar to a suit for damages.

Our experience is that the acceptance of benefits is generally more advantageous to the employee than action at law.

Relief departments are also considered to have a value to the general public, in that through such departments the efficiency of the railroad service is increased, a better grade of men being secured, especially in the

CITY A CAREFUL DOCTOR TO ITS SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Doctor writing out diagnosis of minor contagious cases, skin diseases, etc.

Nurse treating pupil's eyes.

New York, March 31.—Years ago it was held, this system has proved itself to be the most important factor that has arisen to solve the problem of safeguarding the health of the community. This, on $150,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of a corps of doctors and nurses to look after the health of school children.

As late as 1901, 65,000 children were excluded from the public schools of New York City because they suffered from contagious disease. Last year only about one-fourth of that number fell under the ban. The improvements added to the system of medical school inspection are responsible for the marked improvement.

The departments are also of value to the general public of their not deterring their members independent of the public during long periods of sickness and providing to some extent for their families after death.

A good deal of the opposition to the relief department idea is the result of misunderstanding of that part of the contract of membership relating to the accident feature. It is pretty generally understood, or seems to be, that when a man makes application for membership in a relief department he relinquishes his right to sue the company in the event of injury and that his family cannot sue the company if he is killed through its negligence.

This is entirely wrong. It would be useless for the company to have its men sign such a contract and it would be of no account as a defense against a suit for damages arising out of an accident occurring after the contract was made, the courts having decided in many cases that an attempt to contract out of liability in advance is void.

Relief departments are also considered to have a value to the general public, in that through such departments the efficiency of the railroad service is increased, a better grade of men being secured, especially in the transmission of contagion. Until nine years ago, however, these facts were not appreciated by the authorities of this city. In fact, none of the large cities of the world, with the exception of Paris which instituted a medical inspection system for its schools in 1842, seemed cognizant of the need for a regular system. Boston took it up in 1894 and Chicago followed suit a year later. Here the system was not introduced until 1897.

The city is now a careful doctor to its school children. Advice, medicine and even trained nurses are supplied free to victims of contagious diseases.

LIVE NEWS OF BUCKEYE STATE

Train Runs Into Washout.

Portsmouth, O., March 31.—Two trainmen were killed, one fatally injured and five other persons seriously injured in a wreck on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad near Quincy, Ky. The dead: John Spotts, engineer, Covington, Ky.; Stephen Ernst, fireman, Covington, Ky. The train was an accommodation and ran into a washout, the engine, baggage car and smoker leaving the rails and plunging into a small creek which was swollen by recent rains. The two rear coaches remained on the tracks. A relief train was made up here and the injured were brought to the hospital in this city.

Break in Reservoir.

Bellefontaine, O., March 31.—A northern gale beating the high waters in Lewisstown reservoir against the embankment caused a break just north of Lake View. Men, women and children of the town checked the water with sacks of dirt and fenders. Lake View is in danger of being inundated. The water is dashing over the mile of embankment and washing water over, and families below the banks have moved from their homes. Watchmen are placed along the banks. The situation is the worst in 30 years.

Governor Pattison's Condition.

Columbus, O., March 31.—Governor Pattison has rallied from his restlessness. The physicians' bulletins again were hopeful in their tone and the family and friends felt encouraged. Sunshine and warmer weather, it is expected, will serve to aid the governor. The fact that he has made progress during the last week when the weather was depressing is taken to indicate that he will do much better with the coming of more propitious weather.

Negro Before Grand Jury.

Springfield, O., March 31.—Preston Ladd, the negro, testified before the grand jury concerning the murder of Brakeman Mark Davis of Columbus. Ladd was brought here secretly from the Dayton jail and taken before the jury. Edward Davis, colored, now in Dayton jail, is charged with shooting Davis.

Patrolman Shot.

Columbus, O., March 31.—Barricaded in his house in Henry street, Dan Donahue, 25, sent a bullet into the left shoulder of Patrolman James Lot-speich. The patrolman was taken to a hospital. Donahue's arrest was sought on an assault and battery charge.

Bullet in Head.

Athens, O., March 31.—Harley King, 26, married, of Coalton, was found dead with a bullet in his head in a sadon at Modoc, O. The authorities are investigating.

Ohio People Injured.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 31.—As eastbound Nickel Plate passenger train No. 2 was approaching the town of South Whitley, the smoker, day coach and five sleeping cars left the track and turned over in the ditch, injuring 23 persons, one fatally. Only the baggage car and the rear trucks of the dining car remained on the track. The engine and baggage car passed over the spot where the smoker left the track. It is supposed that the rails spread or the trucks of the smoker broke down. The car was hurled 50 feet from the track into a ditch about half filled with water. The day coach following was turned crosswise of the track, and the heavy sleeper section following crashed into the side of the day coach, badly wrecking it, then turned over into the ditch. An unknown woman sustained a fractured skull and will die. Among the injured are: Noah Runkel, Rossion, O.; Mrs. O. Schultz, Cleveland, O.; John Umstead, Conneaut, O.; Emilie Runksa, Conneaut, O.; Frank Hamlin, Cleveland, O.; Chas. Traverser, Cleveland, O.; Conductor Christian Sauer, Bellevue, O.

Hook Penetrated Abdomen.

Timon, O., March 31.—Bert Allesperger, 21, fell from a load of hay and was impaled on the large hook of a log chain. With one hand he drew himself up and with the other withdrew the hook, which had penetrated the lower part of his abdomen. He will die.

To Confiscate Coal.

Springfield, O., March 31.—The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis (Big Four) railroad issued a general order to confiscate all coal in transit on all its lines passing through this city. The order is said to be general on the entire system.

BE SOBER

Says President Roosevelt

"It is of incalculable consequence to the man himself that he should be sober and temperate, and it is of even more consequence to his wife and his children; for it is a hard and cruel fact that in this life of ours the sins of the man are often visited most heavily upon those whose welfare should be his one special care."—President Roosevelt in the Miers at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

BEECH WOODS.

Joe Winegardner had an exciting experience several days ago as he was returning home from Thornville on horse back. Passing through Bruno he was attacked by four hounds.

They sprang at his horse, jumped at his nose and snapped its heels. The horse took fright and started to run away with the hounds in hot pursuit.

For nearly half a mile a wild chase ensued. Winegardner got control of his horse and emptied his seven shooter at the canine brigade, but his aim was not good and they began retreating.

As Minor Poulton was passing the school house in Bruno his horse became frightened at a big snow slide which descended violently from the roof. The horse began kicking and whirling around, upsetting the buggy, throwing Mr. and Mrs. Poulton out.

It liberated itself by kicking loose and ran home, a short distance from the scene of the accident. Mrs. Poulton received several flesh lacerations but no serious injury was done.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial means, that cannot be cured by local applications.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a rumbling sound and imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous membrane.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by local applications, as provided by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BASSETT WAS BUMPED
TRIED TO TALK BILL TO DEATH

His Filibuster Against Dever Bill Angered the House—Disorder Prevailed Throughout His Speech, His Amendment Was Killed and the Bill Passed—Rush at the Session's Finish.

Columbus, O., March 31.—A bill by Mr. Dever of Senate, called an anti-trust bill, was the cause of the only real filibuster of the session in the house. Time is precious now, after whole weeks being ruthlessly wasted in January and February, and members anxious to get their bills passed do not brook long speeches on any subject or dilatory tactics of any kind.

This is why there was fury in the house because Representative Bassett (Rep.) of Toledo, consumed nearly two hours arguing his amendment to Dever's bill. His effort to talk the bill to death only exasperated the rest of the statesmen. While he was talking every ruse conceivable, except a riot call, was resorted to in vain to stop the torrent of the Mammec solon. Lights were turned off, members walked up and down the aisle talking out loud or humming tunes.

GEORGE W. BASSETT, some tried to stop him by points of order and other parliamentary interruptions. Speaker Thompson refused to recognize a motion by Mr. Keady to declare Bassett out of order as an obstructer, nor would he recognize an appeal from his ruling demanded by Mr. Stockwell. When it came time for the noon recess Mr. Bassett stopped only on assurance that he would still have the floor when the session was resumed. After the recess Bassett continued his "speech" despite the rising anger of other members. After he had talked nearly two hours a vote was ordered on his amendment, which was unanimously defeated, then the bill passed. It proposes to grant immunity to witnesses who testify in anti-trust proceedings, but removes all privilege questions, so that a witness must answer questions heretofore dodged as being incriminatory.

Mr. Bassett's filibustering hastened action on Mr. Stephenson's resolution to limit debate to 5-minute speeches, which was adopted.

The legislature is doing its best to adjourn Monday. The Yost resolution fixing April 2 as the date for final adjournment was adopted by the senate. It can be reconsidered Monday and adjournment deferred should emergency arise. Senator Howe wanted the senate to withhold action on the resolution till Saturday, but his motion to that effect was defeated 20 to 15, and the resolution was adopted 27 to 9.

Then the chips began to fly in both houses. The senate put Senator Hefner's bill to increase the salaries of house and senate clerks at the foot of the calendar, beyond reach this session. Senator Howe's franchise tax bill was practically put out of reach as the senate by a vote of 17 to 16 refused to take it up out of its order, concerning which even a Republican paper issued here printed this comment: "When the vote was taken overwhelmingly against his motion, more than a score of lobbyists turned away from the rail and left the chamber, satisfied with their work."

The house killed a resolution to purchase revised statutes; defeated Smith's salary bill for county surveyors by indefinite postponement; killed Senator Lamb's bill limiting jurisdiction of justices of the peace to their own townships, and Mr. Stockwell's bill to submit franchises to a vote of the people.

Commotion in the senate over the passage of the Alkin bill to increase the Dever tax to $1,000 did not end with the final roll call.

Rulings by the Republican lieutenant governor, General A. L. Harris, which helped to put the bill through, were surpassed when the effort was made to get the bill again before the senate by a motion to expunge from the journal the rulings made Tuesday. Demand for roll call, motions to strike out, points of order came were vain. Harris and his gavel hammered down every question raised.

Failing in every move to bring the bill back before the senate, Mr. Harris introduced a bill to cut the Dever tax down to $500, but it would doubtless be defeated by the house even if it were passed by the senate.

Some idea of how high feeling ran over the resolute action of the lieutenant governor, Senators Beatty, Hefner and Schmidt, and Representatives Adler and Sawicki, Democratic members of the joint committee on enrollment, refused to sign the stereotyped reports that the bill was passed "in due form." When this phase of the situation was brought before the house, Adler and Sawicki resigned from the committee.

Mr. Adler said: "I have refused and will refuse to sign the report on house bill 24. It is not because I desire to block legislation, for by resigning I shall give the speaker an opportunity to place somebody else on the committee. I do not refuse because I voted against the bill, nor because I am bitterly opposed to it, for I signed the enrollment report on the Jones bill and the search and seizure bill, both of which I voted against. But when a man, occupying the position of lieutenant governor Harris can so far fall from the dignity," at this point there were numerous interruptions of "point of order." The speaker, cautioned Mr. Adler to avoid personalities. "Well," resumed Adler, "I desire the house to take judicial notice of what happened Tuesday. The will of the people was not carried out."

Speaker Thompson appointed Irvin of Preble and Rolf of Cuyahoga, (Dems.) to succeed Adler and Sawicki on the enrollment committee. Both Irvin and Rolf voted against the Alkin bill, but they signed the report, and the bill duly attested by the presiding officers of the legislature was sent to the governor's office.

To further express indignation at the manner in which General Harris rapped through the Alkin bill, Senator Hefner had spread on the senate journal a vicious protest setting out the various arbitrary rulings made by the lieutenant governor. This protest was signed by Senators Arbenz, Berry, Eppy, Gayman, Hefner, Harper, Howe, Huffman, Hunt, Schmidt, Vanover and Ward, (Dems.); Beatty and Pollock, (Reps.). Senator West, who led the fight for the Alkin bill, will file a counter statement.

It is said the validity of the Alkin bill will be attacked in the courts.

An organization known as the German-American Alliance had an indignation meeting in Columbus to denounce sumptuary laws passed by the legislature. The Alkin bill and the Roberts bill forbidding the sale or giving away of liquor in dance halls and skating rinks were specially scored. The matter will be threshed over again when the German editors meet about six weeks hence. The Alliance will take up the matter again at its annual meeting in 1907.

By that time the organization will extend its influence through representatives appointed at the meeting, who are: Dr. J. B. Kotheimer, Youngstown; Albert Eisele, Cleveland; Anton Amann, Dayton; George Fischer, Springfield; Charles G. Schmidt, Cincinnati; and Frank Hillekamp, Toledo. These men will organize the German ranks Louisville, Ky., March 31.—Of the thousands who are employed in United States postoffices, the veteran is John D. Strassburg, the oldest man in service on the list. He is still at work in the Louisville postoffice, where he has been employed 63 years on March 16. It was on that day in 1843 that he applied to the postmaster of Louisville and was given a position. He has been with the local office ever since and has never lost a day save on leave of absence.

All the insurance bills patterned after the Armstrong bills before the New York legislature will go over to next session. Mr. Stewart of Clarke, who introduced the bills, was authorized by the insurance committee, of which he is chairman, to prepare a resolution favoring a joint committee to sit after the session and refer all pending insurance bills thereto for the purpose of having a new code of insurance laws. Not only would the committee formulate new laws, but revise present laws.

Mr. Stewart also introduced a bill to appropriate $25,000 to defray the expenses of the insurance commission. The resolution providing for the appointment of two Republican and one Democratic member of the house, two Democratic and one Republican members of the senate, was adopted by the house under suspension of the rules, but the appropriation bill was blocked by Mr. Stockwell, who objected to the whole scheme.

The senate adopted Mr. Stuart's

Mr. Strassburg was born in Germany and had just come to America when he secured this position. On June 2 he will be 88 years old. He is as active as ever and expects to work for Uncle Sam for years to come.

resolution to appoint the codifying committee, and the appropriation probably will follow.

Since Governor Pattison's illness incapacitated him from giving personal attention to official services the past two weeks the question is broached, probably by some who would like to have it so, whether acts passed meanwhile will be rendered invalid instead of becoming laws by constitutions. Limitation without sanction. A decision of the Massachusetts supreme court is quoted, in which it was held that bills passed by the general assembly of that state must be "laid before" the governor, as provided in the constitution, else they are void. Ohio's constitution provides that such bills must be "presented to the governor" for his consideration, before they may become laws. It is asserted that no bills are being presented to the governor for consideration.

The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria

New York, March 31.—With thousands of Americans just now the subject of over-sea-lining importance is their coming trip to Europe.

That this will be a record year in transatlantic travel is the consensus of opinion. When at the close of 1905 figures of the different lines were summed up, it was found that in round numbers 75,000 first and 600,000 second cabin passengers, a total of 1,350,000, had gone to Europe from the port of New York alone.

There was general speculation as to what this year would bring forth. Twenty per cent over the record of last year is regarded by many as a conservative estimate of the increase in this year's business. This has nothing to do with the figures for steamship traffic.

No fewer than five great new steamships have been added to the long transatlantic fleet. The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria line heads the list with two new vessels, the Amerika and the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria.

the former already in service and the latter scheduled to make her first passage from New York on May 21.

The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria will be the largest ship afloat, her displacement being more than 43,000 tons. With luxurious fittings and furnishings and an à la carte restaurant similar to that on board the Amerika, the Kaiserin will have a magnificent main garden, with playing fountains, and when the weather is fine passengers will be able to dine in the open air.
